IMPORTANT INFORMATION REGARDING THIS SALE – COVID-19

Fonsie Mealy Auctioneers Salesrooms are fully Covid-19 compliant.

Viewing will be conducted at our spacious premises, and persons, by attending, do so of their own volition.

Fonsie Mealy Auctioneers do not accept liability or responsibility should persons contract Covid-19 subsequent to visiting these premises.

Viewing and Attendance at Auction:

Due to Covid-19 restrictions, all viewing is by appointment only and numbers admitted may be limited to allow for social distancing.

Any delay arising in admittance to viewing is unavoidable and will be kept to a minimum.

Clients are requested to follow the instructions and signage for direction through the salesrooms, hand sanitising and social distancing. The wearing of face coverings is mandatory. It is particularly requested that children do not attend the viewing and auction days.

As numbers attending the auction days will be limited, we request that clients register for a bidding number (paddle) prior to the auction and indicate the sale days that you will attend. Any delay arising in admittance to the auction is unavoidable and will be kept to a minimum.

Commission and Telephone Bidding, Online Live Bidding:

If unable to attend the sale days, clients may submit commission bids by telephone, by email or in person. Simply state the maximum price you would like to pay for a lot and we will purchase it for you at the lowest possible price, taking the reserve price and other competing bids into account.

We can similarly accept telephone bids for lots with a pre-sale estimate in excess of €500.

We will call you for bidding through one of our staff in the saleroom allowing you to participate live.

Live online bidding is available via the-saleroom.com and easyLiveAuction.com. This service incurs a surcharge of 5% levied by the auction host and is chargeable on the hammer price in addition to the buyer's premium.

Collection and Delivery:

We request that all purchases are collected by Friday, 18th December. All such collections are by appointment only and collection by third parties allowed only with written confirmation from the buyer.

Please refer to the following recommended shippers for assistance in this matter:

Mail Boxes etc., Dublin. 01 6710400. Email: info@mbedublin2.com

Information for Buyers

Paddle Bidding

If the purchaser is attending the auction in person they must register for a paddle prior to the auction. Please allow sufficient time for the registration process.

Live Bidding

Please note that live bidding is available via thesaleroom.com and also easyliveauction.com. The saleroom.com service incurs a surcharge of 5% levied by the live auction host and chargeable on the hammer price in addition to the buyer's premium.

Easyliveauction.com service incurs a similar surcharge of 3% or an optional flat rate charge of only £3 sterling per auction day.

Registration for the online bidding portals is the responsibility of the buyer. The auctioneer advises all prospective buyers that live auctions are subject to technical issues that are beyond the control of the auctioneers and as such the auctioneer cannot guarantee the accuracy of bids placed online. Absentee bidding and telephone bidding are available as an alternative to live bidding and does not incur any additional surcharge to the buyer. Issues relating to live bidding including initial registration should be addressed directly by the purchaser with the live auction host.

Absentee Bidding

Absentee bids must be received no later than 5pm on Tuesday, December 8th, 2020. Any bids received after this deadline cannot be guaranteed. If you are bidding with us for the first time then please contact our office for guidelines on registration.

Telephone Bidding

Telephone bidding is available on lots with a pre-sale estimate of €500 or more. Registration for telephone bidding ends at 5pm on Tuesday, December 8th, 2020. (Bids will not be accepted day of sale.) Any requests for telephone bidding received after this deadline may not be processed. It would be advisable to leave a maximum covering bid in case we are not able to contact you by telephone.

Condition Reports and Image Requests

We recommend that the buyer views the item(s) in person prior to the auction, or have a representative view the item(s) on their behalf. The Auctioneer will endeavour to make certain observations on the condition of items but the buyer is reminded that the condition report is based on opinion and should not be taken as a statement of fact.

All requests for condition reports and/or additional images of lots in this sale must be received no later than 12pm Monday, December 7th, 2019. Any requests received after this deadline will not be entertained. We cannot guarantee that all such requests received will be answered by the sale day.

All measurements are given height before width and are approximate.

Fonsie Mealy Auctioneers reserve the right to withdraw or adjust any lot prior to the auction without notice. Any such lots so affected will be announced on the auction day.

Fonsie Mealy Auctioneers reserve the right to control and determine the bidding increments, whether by telephone, online or in the room.

Collection

All items purchased must be collected from the sale venue by Friday, December 18th, 2020.

Buyers Conditions

Buyers are reminded that there is a 21% V.A.T. inclusive premium payable on the final bid price for each lot. The Auctioneers are always pleased to advise clients and to execute bids on their behalf, but if successful, the purchase price payable will be the final bid price and the V.A.T. inclusive premium of 21% chargeable thereon. Bids must always be made or confirmed in writing or by fax, reference being made to each sale through the code names on the title page of each catalogue. To ensure that bids will be accepted and that delivery of Lots is not delayed, intending Buyers should supply bank or other suitable references to the Auctioneers prior to the auction. The references should be supplied in good time to be taken up before the sale. Bids are accepted in Euro only.

N.B. Payment by: Cash, guaranteed cheques, wire transfer (contact accounts@fonsiemealy.ie), debit or credit card (mastercard/visa & subject to 3% surcharge, for payments outside the EU. All Cheques or Drafts to be made payable to "Fonsie Mealy Auctioneers". Third Party Cheques or Drafts will not be accepted as payment for lots purchased.

Books from the Library of William C. Bullitt and his Family

William Christian Bullitt (1891-1967) came from a wealthy and prominent Philadelphia family. Working for President Wilson at the 1919 Paris Peace Conference, he was sent on a special mission to Soviet Russia to negotiate diplomatic relations between the US and the Bolshevik regime. The Soviets offered a peace summit to end the Russian Civil War, and when the Allied leaders rejected their proposal Bullitt resigned from Wilson's staff. He later resigned also from the peace commission, denouncing the Treaty of Versailles as "a tragic mockery of the principle of self-determination".

In 1933 President Roosevelt, a close friend, appointed him the first US ambassador to the Soviet Union. Arriving with high hopes for Soviet-American relations, he was soon disillusioned by his experience of the Soviet leadership. He was recalled in 1936 and was appointed ambassador to France.

Fluent in French and an ardent Francophile, Bullitt became a prominent member of French society, while maintaining daily contact with Roosevelt. When in 1940 Germany invaded France and Paris was threatened, the government and diplomatic staff moved to Bordeaux, but Bullitt insisted on remaining in Paris. This angered Roosevelt, who dismissed him, and Bullitt's diplomatic career came to an abrupt end.

Originally a liberal and sympathetic towards radical views, Bullitt became a virulent anti-communist, and spent much time in the post-war years writing about its dangers.

Bullitt was twice married. His second wife was the feminist, political activist and journalist Louise Bryant (1885-1936), widow of the journalist and communist activist John (Jack) Silas Reed (1887-1920). Bryant and Reed had worked together on various radical social issues, and in 1917 had been in Petrograd in time to cover the Bolshevik revolution. Both had written books about their experiences: Bryant's Six Red Months in Russia and Reed's Ten Days that shook the World. The award-winning 1981 film Reds was based on their tempestuous relationship.

Bullitt divorced Louise Bryant in 1930 on the grounds that she was having a lesbian affair with the artist Gwen Le Gallienne. They had one child, the socialite, philanthropist and horse-breeder Anne Moen Bullitt (1924-2007), who was brought up by her father and accompanied him to Moscow and Paris. In 1956 Bullitt bought for her the 700-acres estate of Palmerstown House Stud in Co. Kildare, where for almost thirty years she ran a highly successful business, training and breeding racehorses.

From 1967 to 1969 she was married to Daniel Brewster (1923-2007), representative for Maryland in the House of Representatives from 1959 to 1963 and in the Senate from 1963 to 1969 (Nancy Pelosi served as an intern on his staff); during this time, he was a strong supporter of the Civil Rights Acts of 1960, 1964 and 1968, and spoke on a variety of issues varying from Cuba to the postal service.

Kathleen Clarke's Copy

O'Brien (William) & Ryan (Desmond) eds. Devoy's Post Bag. Vol. One - Vol. Two, 1870-80, 1880-1928. D. 1948 & [1953]. Tall 8vo cloth in chipped d.w.s, clean copies. Vol. Two Signed by the editor William O'Brien, dated Feb. 1953. Kathleen Clarke's copy (widow of Tom Clarke, who features extensively in the later letters), with her dairy account from Hughes Bros.laid in.

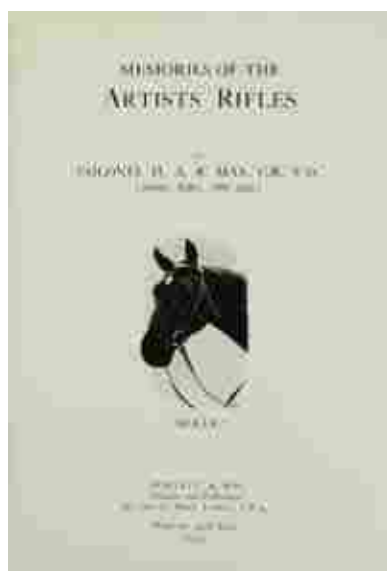

Kathleen Clarke was a daughter of the old Limerick Fenian John Daly. She married Tom Clarke in 1899 after his release following 15 years imprisonment in England. Clarke asked her not to take part in the Rising, charging her instead with responsibility for the welfare of relatives of those who would be killed or imprisoned. The week after the Rising, she set up Irish National Aid and Victim Support, fending off various Redmondites who offered to assist her. A year later she hired Michael Collins as an assistant, giving him a platform from which he reorganised the Volunteers. She later joined Fianna Fail and was elected to the Dail, but left the party over the execution of Republicans. She was elected Lord Mayor of Dublin in 1939, the first woman to hold the position. When it appeared that Margaret Mary Pearse might have an interest in the position, it was suggested that Mrs. Clarke might stand aside. Her response was, 'Tom Clarke's widow stands aside for nobody!'

John Devoy was head of the I.R.B.'s American wing Clan na Gael and provided the financial support which kept the Irish organisation alive from the 1870s all the way to the Easter Rising. His post bag tells the inside story of fifty years of struggle, persevering through many setbacks to the establishment of an independent Irish state. €180 - 220

Interesting American Association: Steffens (Lincoln) John Reed Under the Kremlin, sm. 8vo Chicago (Will Ransom for The Walden Book Shop) 1922. Private Press Limited to 235 Copies, uncut, orig. wrappers, with bookplate removed; also by same author Moses in Red, The Revolt of Israel as a Typical Revolution, 8vo Philadelphia 1926. First Edn., Signed by Louise Bryant, with book label of William C. Bullitt, orig. cloth with decor. label. (1)
* John Reed, author & socialist, was married to Louise Bryant. He wrote 'Ten Days that Shook the World,' about the 1917 October Russian Revolution. He died of typhus in 1920, and is the only American to be buried within the walls of the Kremlin. Louise Bryant later married William C. Bullitt, First American Ambassador to Russia in 1933-36, and later from 1936 to France. He was credited as having saved Paris from bombing by the Germans. He and Bryant eventually split up acrimoniously, maybe the reason for removing his bookplate from her copy of the Reed Book.
Provenance: Both volumes from the estate of Anne Bullitt, only daughter of Bullitt and Bryant.

A Dark Day in GAA & Irish History

'Bloody Sunday' Ticket An original Admission Ticket to Croke Park, Great Challenge Match (Football), Tipperary v. Dublin, Sunday November 21, 1920. Pink card, 3 ins x 4 ¼ ins, vertical fold mark with slight tear, number written rear in ms.

It was at this match that British soldiers opened fire on the pitch and crowd, killing a player and twelve spectators. This followed Michael Collins' operation against British secret service agents earlier that morning, in which fourteen British officers were shot dead. (1)

The period 1918 - 1920 was a turbulent and dangerous period in Irish History. Martial Law was enforced in many areas, and the activities of the G.A.A. and other Sporting Organisations were severely curtailed. The behaviour of the British Forces in Ireland forced many young men to join the Irish Volunteers, and other Republican Organizations despite having no background in the movement. Especially in Tipperary, many young men of the time, and particularly those involved in Gaelic Games joined in the struggle for Irish Independence. With such exciting events as the Rescue of Sean Hogan at Knocklong Railway Station in May 1919, several of the country's leading Footballers became involved in the War of Independence. By early March 1920 the number of Gaelic Games played almost came to a standstill. This trend continued into the early summer when normally the volume of activity should have been increasing. In October there came a sudden and brief revival of Inter-County Fixtures. However, the following month was to have a tragic outcome. In early October, approximately five thousand spectators who had so far that year had little exciting fare were entertained by a rousing Challenge Football Match in Croke Park, between Dublin and Kildare, which Dublin won. Soon afterwards, the Tipperary County Board issued a challenge to Dublin. A match was arranged for 2.45 p.m. on Sunday November 21st, again at Croke Park. The game was well organised, and advertised as The G.A.A. Challenge Match. It was intended that the money raised from the match would help the Association for the Dependents of the I.R.A. who had been killed or imprisoned.

The events which occurred at that game, now known as "Bloody Sunday," followed the early morning assassination of eleven British Intelligence Agents, "The Cairo Gang," in an operation organized by Michael Collins. When the British retaliated later that day, it was to Croke Park that the Military and Auxiliary Forces came, recognizing that the Stadium was the centre and symbol of Irish Nationalism and Nationalistic Aspirations. "Then suddenly and without any warning, Croke Park was the scene of a holocaust??" They fired into the crowd indiscriminately, killing twelve people and wounding about sixty, "On the field Michael Hogan, one of the Tipperary backs (and one of only two Irish Volunteer Officers on the Tipperary Team) lay mortally wounded, while within seconds a dozen spectators were dead or dying, many more seriously wounded." This was Bloody Sunday.

Nothing more strikingly illustrates the close connections between the G.A.A. and the Republican Movement between 1916 and 1922, than "Bloody Sunday." (1)

Bloody Sunday First Anniversary Tournament Excessively Rare Gold Medal

G.A.A. Football: A magnificent and excessively rare 9ct gold circular medal, the obverse finely engraved with an Irish sportsman, togged out and standing in front of a goalpost 'holding a rifle in his hands, two hurley sticks, a sliotar and a football lying in foreground, and decorated with shamrocks overhead, the reverse inscribed "Presented by The Irish Natl. Assurance Co., 1921 Anniversary T'ment. Won by Tipp. J. Kickham." The loop suspension flanked either side with engraved shamrock. In immaculate condition. (1)

* This medal was awarded to Jack Kickham (C.J. Kickhams Club of Mullinahone) who played full forward for Tipperary on that faithful day. Jack was born at Ballydavid, Mullinahone into a farming family and community where he remained up to his death. He was a member of the Mullinahone Team that brought the first ever Senior County Football Title to the Village in 1912. He progressed to become a full member of the Tipperary County Team along with his club mate Ned Egan. They were narrowly defeated by Kerry in the Munster semi-final of 1919, a match that took place on May 25th, less than a fortnight after the Knocklong Rescue of Sean Hogan by Sean Treacy, Dan Breen and others, in which two policemen were killed. After this incident, South Tipperary became an armed camp and all G.A.A. and other Sporting Activities ceased. Jack was a quiet man and reputed to be one who avoided the limelight at all costs, but one who would have surely won more honours from his sporting prowess except for the turbulent times that existed when he was in his prime. Nevertheless, he will forever be remembered with pride in his native village.

An extremely rare memento of this extraordinary day in G.A.A. History.

* The Match was marred in controversy ever before a ball was even kicked. The then Archbishop (John Charles McQuaid) issued a letter to all parishes to be read out declaring that all Catholics be banned from attending the match, due primarily to the persecutions of a Catholic Bishop Stepinac, for the communist Regime in Yugoslavia. The church and state pulled rank and barred the army band from playing, Radio Eireann did not broadcast the match either.

A Rare Survivor of an Event which included Sport, Church and Politics. Good Copy.

No, Sir, Not Assassins but the Cream of their Race'

McMahon (John T.), O.B.E., M.A., Ph.D. 'The Cream of their Race' Irish Truce Negotiations December 1920 - January 1921. Clare Champion [c.1973], For Author, First, orig. printed wrs, stapled. Inscribed by author on prelim, dated 2.3.73; (with) Building Character From Within. The Problem of Leisure. Bruce Publishing Co., Milwaukee, 1940, First Edn., orig. green cloth, 188 pp. Inscribed on f.f.e.p., 'To my mother from the Jackeen of the family, J.T. McMahon, South Perth, March 18 1940'.

The first item is the only complete account of the attempt by Archbishop Patrick Clune of Perth to mediate between Lloyd George and the Irish leaders, with a view to a truce. Fr. McMahon, like Clune a Clareman, was secretary to the Archbishop and kept a diary of their efforts, during which Dr. Clune made his celebrated reply to Lloyd George, 'No, Sir, not assassins but the cream of their race.'

When the mediation was unsuccessful, due to British intransigence, Fr. McMahon embarked for Perth where in time he became an authority on Catholic education, publishing some 30 books. He retired in 1979 and died in 1989.

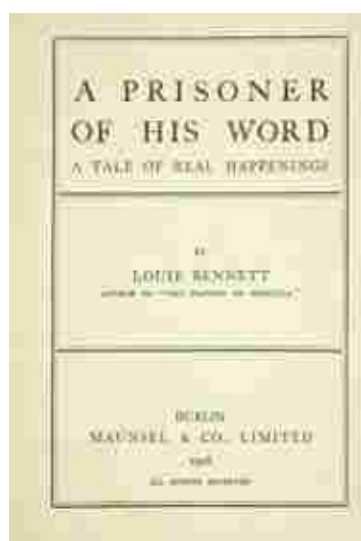

His work is scarce on this side of the world; Neither item found in NLI online catalogue or in COPAC. (2) €275 - 350

The Hyde Family Copy

Dickens (Charles). The Old Curiosity Shop. A Tale. With Illustrations by George Cattermole and Hablot K. Browne. Complete in One Volume. London: Chapman and Hall, 193, Piccadilly. Bradbury, Evans and Co., Printers, Whitefriars. N.d. [1841?], FIRST SEPARATE EDITION.

"This Tale is now reprinted, for the reader's greater convenience, from the stereotype plates of 'MASTER HUMPHREY'S CLOCK', where it was occasionally interrupted by other matter, which is expunged from this Edition. It is presented here, complete, in one volume. The numbering of the pages will be occasionally found to be defective, in consequence."

Very tall 8vo, page-block 26cms tall. Publisher's olive-green fine-grained cloth, covers with rule and cable decorations in blind, spine with title and author's name in gilt. Plain light yellow e.p.s. With running-head of Master Humphrey's Clock throughout, but none of that text present. 228 leaves. Page 2 is numbered 2-38, p.47 numbered 47-79, p.96 numbered 96-102, p.224 blank, p.307 reverts to number 1. With 83 fine textual engravings by George Cattermole and Hablot K. Browne ('Phiz'). A well-read copy, covers worn and faded, some light foxing but the plates in excellent condition.

The Hyde family copy, with bookplate of Douglas Hyde (co-founder of the Gaelic League and first President of Ireland), and with the signature of his mother Bessie Hyde on f.f.e.p., 'From her aff[ectiona]l A. Hyde, August 11 1873'; and further signed on t.p. Laid in is a copy of the Gaelic League Constitution dated October 1896, with markings in Hyde's usual blue pencil, highlighting statements of the League's non-political and non-sectarian nature (which was challenged by Republican elements circa 1915). Caustic Comments on the Politicians of 1803

Holograph letter (1 p.) from Whig Politician Thomas Creevey to Liverpool doctor James Currie, 5 November 1803.

Thomas Creevey (1768-1838), a native of Liverpool, had recently become MP for Thetford in Norfolk and had married a wealthy widow. Thanks to his intellectual and social skills, the patronage of his stepson William Ord, and his friendship with Charles James Fox, he became a significant figure in the British establishment. His journals and correspondence, published in 1903, "give a lively and valuable picture of the political and social life of the late Georgian period".

James Currie (1756-1805) was a Scots physician, best known as the biographer of Robert Burns but perhaps more memorable for his pioneering use of water in the treatment of fever. After an adventurous few years in America he settled in Liverpool, where presumably he knew the family of Thomas Creevey. In this letter, Creevey passes typically outspoken comments on a number of the most famous personalities of this colourful period, including George III, the Prince of Wales, Pitt, Fox, Sheridan, and Earl Grey of the tea fame.

Letters to a Kerry Barrister and Landowner, 1817 - 1839

Co. Kerry Archive Mahony (Pierce), M.R.I.A. of Woodlawn and Kilmorna, Co. Kerry (1792 - 1853). A collection of 12 letters, concerning Mahony family affairs, a by-election in Co. Waterford & estate development. Synopsis of the letters as follows:

- (1) From the Earl of Fingall, Twickenham, 27 January 1817. Regrets that Mr. Mat Donelan has failed to honour a bill for £300 owing to Mahony.
- (2) From Florence Mahony, Killarney, 3 March 1818. A complicated letter, mentioning many names, regarding his attempts to get a deed signed, and the evasive tactics used against him.
- (3) & (4) From William Meredith, Tralee, 7 April 1818, and A. [Alicia] Meredith, Dicksgrrove, 14 May 1818.

William Meredith of Dicksgrrove, Farranfore (1771-1849), JP, was High Sheriff of Kerry in 1803. He married in 1801 Alicia, daughter of Richard Orpen of Ardtully (died 1821). "The Merediths were highly regarded as landlords in this area: they were never absentees and gained much admiration for their help and fair dealing" (V. Bary, Houses of Kerry, p. 98).

William writes that "The Ventrys want very much to buy the 1/6 part of the town and lands of C[astle] Island, and for every reason, & it's being so unpleasant a kind of property, I am determin'd to sell it if I can get near the value for it." Hopes for £5,000 - "It will give me Happiness & Peace for the Rest of my life, & not be Tormenting my friends, I mean yourself." Urges Mahony to expedite the sale if he can.

Alicia writes that she has done everything in her power to persuade her husband to sell off some property. "As to Charles Herbert I thought he knew better than to suppose he'd have a notion of purchasing any property - like the snail he wishes to live within himself." Hopes William "will no longer hesitate about disposing something to get rid of those sharks ... his fine demesne neglected by his frequent absence, for let a mistress do her utmost she cannot inspect everything like the master - besides I have too much inside doors to attend to now."

- (5) From C. Mahony (Cornelius Mahony, Pierce's elder half-brother), Doon, 14 June 1818.

Has mislaid the copy of the process Pierce had sent him and requests another as soon as possible. "Tell David his mare is in great condition but she has a slight mange ... I am very much distressed for grass so that a dairy man is going to law with me and will give me neither nor butter."

- (6) From Denis Richard Moylan, Cork, 4 September 1818.

Implores Pierce to settle with his brother-in-law Kenifeck who owes him money. "Surely you will not refuse giving him a sure acquittal & allow him & his Family one moment of Comfort & Care ... the man who was wholly instrumental in securing so prodigious a Fortune for you."

- (7) From David Mahony (Pierce's younger brother), Dungarvan, 24 October 1818.

Writes mainly of legal matters - a bill for £75 that is due, one Callaghan who is in trouble for debt, and Harry Duggan who is accused of selling cattle that were alleged to be the property of another. Continues: "I was sorry to hear of the row between Con [Mahony] and [Daniel] O'Connell ... O'Connell is now in a most awkward position, and leave him so. The public will judge."

- (8) From Philip Mahony (Pierce's elder half-brother), Paris, 10 March 1818. Begs Pierce to adopt a more efficient way of paying his allowance, which is always long overdue, causing him great hardship. "To use a Vulgar expression, I am obliged to eat the calf in the cow's belly. In the Name of God obviate this all this evil and restore me my peace of mind in this respect."

- (9) & (10) From Nicholas White, Kilkenny, 11 December 1829, and Gore's

Grove, 27 December 1829, regarding the impending by-election for Co. Waterford.

In the general election of 1826 Henry Villiers-Stuart, supported by Daniel O'Connell and the Catholic Association, had dramatically defeated the anti-Emancipation sitting MP Lord George Beresford, winning one of the two seats for Waterford County. However, in June 1829 Stuart resigned his seat in disgust at O'Connell's abandonment of the forty-shilling freeholders, which disfranchised some 85% of the county's electorate. In the ensuing by-election campaign Beresford stood again, announcing that he now accepted Emancipation and wished to bury the hatchet with his opponents. He was opposed by the O'Connellite candidate John Barron but supported by many Catholics, and when the election finally took place in March 1830 he won the seat comfortably.

In the first letter, White describes his meeting with Lord George, and his fear that Barron (who is put forward by his brother Pierce George Barron) will prove troublesome: "There should be a close watch kept upon the tenants of all the Roman Catholic Gentlemen who promised to support Lord George Beresford, as I have reason to think they have been (more or less) tampered with already. This ought to be quickly put a stop to. I intend going to the County of Waterford in a week or ten days, and will use every exertion in my power to put a stop to this system."

In the second letter, he writes of his impending visit to Mr O'Shee at Gardenmorris, who, though a Catholic, is a confirmed supporter of Beresford.

- (11) From C.W. Williams, City of Dublin Steam Packet Company, 2 April 1833. Writes of the affairs of the company and asks Mahony to use his influence to help get the relevant bill passed by parliament.

- (12) From G. Drummond, Gunsborough, 16 February 1839.

Pierce Mahony had bought Gunsborough in 1834, and in 1837 was recorded as being about to erect a new mansion there. He was a progressive landlord and did much to improve the lives of his tenants (V. Bary, Houses of Kerry, p. 135). He also bought Riversdale House, Listowel (which he rebuilt and named Kilmorna) and Leslie Lodge. Drummond was his agent for all three places, and in this letter writes in great detail (some 1,600 words) of the progress he has made in fencing, planting trees, sowing crops and raising stock.

* Pierce above, was the son of Pierce Mahony (1750 - 1819) of the Castle, Newcastle, Co. Limerick, and Woodlawn, Co. Kerry, by his 2nd wife Anna Maria, daughter of John Maunsell of Ballyerood House, Co. Limerick. He married in 1815, Jane, only daughter of Wm. Kenifeck of Seafort, Co. Cork. Their great-grandson Pierce Gun O'Mahony was Cork Herald of Arms at the time of the disappearance of the Irish Crown Jewels.

Medical interest: Manuscript Page, 29cms x 23cms, printed text in Latin, with MS additions in English. Invitation to a Dr Faulkner to attend a lecture on surgery given by a Dr Hervey, on Monday 11 April (year not specified), at 5 o'clock, followed by dinner at 5.30 - together with a reminder to the recipient to pay his fees and annual subscription.

The letterhead bears the arms and motto of the Royal College of Physicians in London, of which Dr Arthur Brooke Faulkner was elected a fellow in 1808 (in which year 11 April did fall on a Monday).

Arthur Brooke Faulkner (1779-1845) was the youngest son of Hugh Faulkner of Wellbrook and Seville Park, Co. Tyrone, and Castletown, Co. Carlow. Having been appointed physician to the forces, he served on the staff in Spain, Holland, Sicily and Malta. While he was in Malta there was an outbreak of the plague, and by his vigorous exertions in enforcing quarantine he limited its spread. On his return to England in 1815 he was knighted for his services.

The speaker at the lecture he attended in 1808 appears to have been Dr Thomas Hervey (1751-1824), the pioneer of smallpox vaccination. (1)

Letter from an Irish Officer in Malta, 1827

Mayne (Capt E.C.): A Letter (4 pp, cross-written) written by Captain Edward C. Mayne, 95th Regiment, Malta, to his father John Mayne in Dublin, 20 January 1827. An interesting document, containing comments on regimental life, enquires for members of the family, and impressions of conditions in Ireland as reported in the press. According to The Sedborough Family of Ireland (online), the writer was Edward Colburne Mayne, the son of Captain John Mayne of "Platanus", Lower Leeson St., Dublin, and his wife Theodosia, daughter of John Colburne. His father was the son of Lieutenant Edward Mayne of Cootehill, 93rd Dragoons (1772-1855). Edward was born in 1801 and his brother William (mentioned in the letter) in 1808. Their mother died in 1810 and their father married again in 1813 and had three sons: Dawson ("Has Dawson not gone to school as yet, if not I think he soon ought, he promised to be a very fine boy"), Robert and John.

Edward joined the 95th (Derbyshire) Foot as a lieutenant in 1824, was promoted to captain in 1826, and retired on half pay in 1830. He later emigrated to New South Wales, where he became a cattle and land speculator. His ventures failed, he went bankrupt, returned to Ireland, and died in 1850. (1) €80 - 120

Curious Manuscript Poems by a 19th Century Galway Merchant

Co. Galway: M/ss book of homely verses written by Henry Howard, merchant of Eyrecourt in Co. Galway, 1809 - 10. Written in a childish hand, with atrocious spelling. Contained in "The Emerald Copy Book," which dates from c. 1890 (therefore this is a later transcript?) Lacks back cover. 2pp damaged, affecting text.

The first and longest item is the sixty-verse "A View of Redmond Hill" This is followed by "A Song," "The Forsaken Shades" ("When a Mr. Pendergast took the Castle and Farm at £1000 for a year he shut out the peoples of the Town") "A Dealers Address to all worthles visitors" (A diatribe against loungers whose presence discourages customers from entering the shop), and the very moving "Widowers Soliloquy, By Henry Howard on the Death of his wife Anne Rosingrave Howard," which concludes with an acrostic on her name.

A fascinating and rare instance of rustic versification in the years before the introduction of national schools. As a m/ss, w.a.f. (1) €120 - 180

Tender of the Façade of Holy Trinity Church, Cork

[Pain (G.R.)] Draft submission of design for the façade of Holy Trinity Church, Cork, 3 pp, unsigned.

Holy Trinity was the brainchild of temperance crusader Father Theobald Mathew, the architect being George Richard Pain. The foundation stone was laid in 1832, but work stalled for a variety of reasons (Pain's death, spiralling costs, the outbreak of the Famine); the church was opened in 1850, though the interior was not completed until 1866.

The façade was left unfinished, and a competition was launched for a design as close as possible to Pain's to complete the work in time for the centenary of Fr Mathew's birth (1890). The committee was chaired by Cork nationalist Denny Lane, to whom this tender is addressed. The contract was awarded to Dominick J. Coakley and the work was carried out by John Sisk, and despite initial anxiety the church was reopened on time.

This is one of the designs submitted, though as it is not signed and it has not been possible to identify the applicant. As a m/ss., w.a.f. (1)

A Corkman's Voyage to New York in the Year of the Titanic

Manuscript: A fascinating eight-page M/ss Journal of a Voyage to New York aboard the RMS Baltic from 17 to 20 September 1912. The Baltic, once the world's largest ship, was a White Star liner that sailed the Atlantic between 1904 and 1933. she was involved in several dramatic incidents, including sending the famous iceberg warning to Titanic.

The writer, who signs with his initials "B.H." is thought to be Benjamin Haughton (1855 - 1932), a Quaker merchant of Cork who worked actively on behalf of various charitable organisations in the city; he was a member of the Senate of the Irish Free State from 1922 to 1928. On the voyage he was accompanied by his daughter (?) Marjorie, whose 19th birthday was celebrated the day before their arrival.

Fellow-passengers included William Redmond, the passionate Irish nationalist MP and inveterate traveller, the socialite Adele Countess of Essex, and the former Bishop of Ripon William Boyd Carpenter, who preached a lugubrious sermon after a fireman named Doyle threw himself overboard and drowned.

There are comments on fellow passengers and on the entertainments provided, which included lectures by two celebrated missionaries, Henry Hodgkin on "China" and Ralph Wardlaw Thompson on "The Menace of Moslemism" As a m/ss. Rare. (1) €225 - 350

Typescript of a 1752 Court Case Regarding Lands in Kerry

Co. Kerry: Typescript (22 pp) of a case to be heard by the Irish House of Lords on 4 March 1752 between Francis Thomas, Earl of Kerry and Lixnaw, a minor, and John Petty, Viscount FitzMaurice.

Thomas (FitzMaurice), 1st Earl of Kerry and Lixnaw, married in 1692 Anne Petty, daughter of the celebrated Sir William Petty, economist, scientist, philosopher and land surveyor. They had two sons: William, who succeeded his father in 1742, and John, who in 1751 inherited the estates of his maternal grandfather, changed his name to Petty, and was created Viscount FitzMaurice (he became Earl of Shelburne in 1753). William, 2nd Earl of Kerry, died in 1747 and was succeeded by his son Francis Thomas, then a young child.

The law-suit is thus between a nephew and an uncle, John (the uncle) claiming money and lands under settlements made by his father the 1st Earl. In 1750 the court upheld his claim, but the nephew (through his guardian) appealed the case to the House of Lords. In this document, John demands that the original judgement be upheld. John's insistence was caused in part by the fact that under Earl Thomas's management the Kerry estate had greatly increased in value, with the construction of a mansion, deer park, gardens, fruit and forest plantations, and encouragements to tenants to improve their lands (see p. 13). An important legal document illustrating the complexities of Irish land ownership, the feuds within a prominent family, and the development of a Kerry estate, in the first half of the 18th century. As a typescript. (1)

The Abdication of Edward VIII, 1936

Printed Act: Print text headed "A Bill to give effect to His Majesty's abdication, brought before the Commons 11 December 1936." Edward VIII abdicated the throne owing to his refusal to renounce his intention of marrying Wallis Simpson, an American socialite divorcee deemed unsuitable as a royal consort by the British establishment. The event had its impact on Ireland, where de Valera, encouraged by the perceived weakness of Britain, moved swiftly to introduce laws that would reduce the influence of the Crown in Irish affairs. Rare. (1)

Two Royal French Charters Relating to the MacCarthy Family

(A) Charter on vellum issued by Charles X of France, dated 15 April 1829, confirming the title of Comte to Charles François Fontaine, "écuyer, officier du garde de corps". With grant of arms (illustrated). Royal seal on green wax, intact, in metal container.

(B) Charter on vellum issued by Louis-Philippe of France, dated 2 Sept 1843, granting the petition of Charles MacCarthy Fontaine de Mervé (born Nov 1813, widower of Marguerite MacCarthy who died 18 June 1842) to marry his sister-in-law Marie MacCarthy (born 4 Feb 1811). Royal seal (broken) in metal container.

Charles MacCarthy was the son of Sir Charles MacCarthy (1764-1824), who had served with the pre-Revolution Irish Brigade and then with the British forces. In 1812 he was appointed governor of Senegal and Gorée and in 1814 governor of Sierra Leone. An indefatigable campaigner for the abolition of the slave trade, he was killed in battle against the Ashanti (his skull was used as a drinking-cup by the Ashanti rulers). Charles MacCarthy junior, then aged twelve, was adopted by his uncle, the Comte Charles François Fontaine de Mervé, who had married Sir Charles's sister. €200 - 300

Three Manuscript Travel Journals of Thomas Prior, later Vice-Provost of Dublin University

(1) "Journal of a Tour through North Wales, Cheshire, Derbyshire, Yorkshire, Westmorland, Cumberland, and Lancashire, in the months of July & August 1800 ... in company with Jas Bessonnet Esq." Evidently the first volume only, as the narrative ends when the travellers are in Ripon (Yorkshire). Oblong 8vo, approx. 79pp mor. backed marble boards;

(2) "Excursion to Wales, Journal &c, Aug 27th to Oct 29th 1802." Oblong 8vo, approx. 44pp marble boards;

(3) Fragment of Italian journal n.d., 8vo approx. 30pp wrappers;

The Rev. Thomas Prior (1765-1843) was at this time a Fellow of Trinity College, Dublin (he became a Doctor of Divinity in 1805, and was Vice-Provost of the University 1832-33 and 1840-43). In the journals he writes with a keen eye for detail about people, places and events - and is rather easily shocked! (3)

The 1831 Meath Election

an interesting early 19th Century Manuscript of Local Political interest, of 106pps., listing 960 voters (in alphabetical order), with 18 electoral districts - name, residence, landlord, value, etc., full green mor. with manuscript label. As a manuscript, w.a.f. (1)

The Hon Richard Thomas Rowley (1812-1887) was the younger brother of Lord Langford of Summerhill, Co. Meath. At the general election of 1831, in which the key issue was the government's proposed reform bill, he stood for one of the two seats in Meath County (the first contested election there since 1802). There were five candidates - four supporters of reform and one (Rowley) a well-known opponent of the bill. The government feared that the quarrelling of the reformers would split the vote and give the seat to Rowley. They need not have worried - Rowley withdrew at the end of the first day's polling, having received only eight votes. (However, he was more successful in later years, becoming M.P. for Harwich from 1860 to 1865.)

Manuscript Work on Ancient Classical Philosophers

Manuscript volume attractively bound in brown morocco with gold tooled edges and spine. 18 x 12 cm. 248 pp in a very neat hand. Entitled "A Translation of the Manuel [sic] of Epictetus; with a brief sketch of the Philosophy of the Greeks and Romans. Some of the Dialogues of Socrates; and the Advice of Isocrates to a young man." By "J.S." (unidentified), c 1860.

Epictetus (c 50-135 A.D.) was a Greek Stoic philosopher whose ideas on life and human behaviour influenced subsequent generations; he taught that we should accept external events with calmness, while maintaining control over our lives through self-discipline. The ideas of the rhetorician Isocrates (436-338 B.C.) have been a major influence on the concept of liberal arts education. (1)

Journal of a tour through Flanders, the Rhineland and Holland in 1840

Manuscript Journal (writer unnamed) of a tour through Ghent, Liege, Verviers, Aix, Cologne, up the Rhine by steamer as far as Coblenz, thence by train to Wiesbaden, by train back to Cologne, and home via Utrecht, Amsterdam, The Hague and Rotterdam.

The travellers left Dover on 28 July and returned on 14 August 1840. The writer has a keen eye and describes landscapes and buildings - towns, churches, castles - in some detail. This was an interesting period: not only long before the destruction caused by two world wars (the armies of Napoleon are cited as the main culprits in this journal) but also before much 19th century building: Cologne Cathedral, for instance, had been left unfinished since 1560; work resumed shortly after our travellers had left, and the iconic spires were not completed until 1880.

A 79 pp, written in a clear, neat hand. Binding detached. As a Manuscript, w.a.f. (1)

Important Diary of Carlow M.P., 1895-1901
Co. Carlow: Manuscript diary listing daily events from 22 April 1895 to 2 December 1901.
The writer appears to be John Hammond
(1842-1907), a grocer in Tullow St., Carlow, who was M.P. for the county from 1891, and chairman of the county council from 1899, until his death. (He refers to himself in the diary in the third person as "J.H.").

The diary records a life of frenetic activity, with local meetings of many kinds, religious services, journeys to Dublin and London to attend meetings of the Irish Party and debates in the House of Commons, drives round the county, apparently with hardly a day of relaxation (Hammond was unmarried).

An important document illustrating the life of a conscientious public representative at a period of rapid change in Irish political life. (1)

Membership Lists of the Kildare Street Club

Two volumes containing names and addresses of members of the Kildare Street
Club. The first is stamped "K.S.C. Hall Porter's Address Book" and lists the members under initial letter of surname, with many deletions and additions; half calf (dam), 23 x 30 pp. The second, a large (25 x 32 cm) vol bound in red calf and stamped "United Kingdom Representative" contains entries in chronological order between 11 April 1949 and 4 December 1950; 64 pp (the rest blank) containing approx. 750 signatures.

The Kildare Street Club was founded in 1782, its membership originally consisting of prominent Irishmen opposed to the connection with Britain. During the 19th century, however, it came to be associated predominantly with the pro-Union
Ascendancy. After the foundation of the Irish Free State in 1922 it fell into decline, and in 1976 it amalgamated with the Dublin University Club, its premises being leased to the Heraldic Museum and the Alliance Française.

Greatest Berkeley Scholar of the 20th Century

Luce (A.A.) Two folio volumes of Notes by A.A. Luce, TCD, on the Common Place Book of Bishop Berkeley (BL MS 39305).

Arthur Aston Luce (1882-1977) was Professor of Philosophy at Trinity College, Dublin, and was Vice-Provost from 1946 to 1952; his 65-year fellowship from 1912 until his death is the longest in the history of the college. He was also Precentor of St Patrick's Cathedral. He became a world-renowned authority on Bishop Berkeley, co-authoring the nine-volume edition of Berkeley's works (1948-57) and publishing (among other works) monographs on Berkeley's philosophical commentaries (1944) and life (1949) - in addition to Fishing and Thinking (1959) and A History of the Dublin Chess Club (1967). He discovered new sources and better ways of interpreting the existing sources, and in general brought about a major reassessment of Berkeley both as a philosopher and as a person.

These volumes contain his transcription and notes on Berkeley's commonplace book, which has been described as "one of the most interesting documents in the history of philosophy: it reveals the struggles of a youthful, earnest and energetic mind with the growth of skepticism and shows Berkeley's approach to the doctrine of idealism." As a manuscript, w.a.f. (1) €350 - 450

Collection Relating to Cotton Merchant

Platt (James) (1888-1948) of Highfield Hall, Northrop, Flintshire, a Liverpool businessman, founded in 1921 the cotton broking firm of James Platt & Co.

He was a JP of Flintshire from 1930 and was High Sheriff of the county in 1936. He was also a keen yachtsman and cricketer.

In 1935 he stood as Conservative candidate for Liverpool Wavertree, where a by-election became due when the sitting MP was elevated to the peerage as Lord Brocket. Platt was strongly tipped to win, but the unexpected arrival of Lord Randolph Churchill as an Independent Conservative candidate split the Conservative vote and - after a campaign that received nationwide coverage - handed the seat to the Labour candidate, Joseph Cleary (he lost again in the general election nine months later).

(1) Grant of Arms

Grant of arms to James Platt of Highfield Hall, High Sheriff elect of Flintshire, from the Garter and Norroy Kings of Arms, 17 January 1936.
Illuminated with the arms of Pratt, Garter, Norroy, and the royal arms. On parchment, with seals attached in brass containers. All in a leather case bearing the monogram of King George V. A fine item.

(2) Scrap Book

Large album (32 x 26 cm) of news cuttings about the Waverley by-election.

(3) Scrap book

Large album (34 x 23 cm) of news cuttings, invitations, letters, and general ephemera relating to James Platt as High Sheriff of Flintshire, his business affairs, his family, the "coming-out" of his daughter Joan and her later engagement - including a charming letter written by Joan as a small girl to her parents (then in Egypt on cotton business) asking them "do bring back a black baby". As a collection, w.a.f. (3) €300 - 400

Victorian Hostess & Horticulturist An Important Collection Relating to Lady Dorothy Nevill

Lady Dorothy ("Dorothy") Fanny Nevill (1826-1913) was one of the five children of Horatio Walpole, 3rd Earl of Orford.

At the age of twenty scandal struck when she was discovered, "innocently but most imprudently," unchaperoned in a Norfolk greenhouse with George Smythe, a notorious womanizer. Rumours spread, first of a pregnancy and then of a miscarriage, but in 1847 her wealthy forty-year-old cousin Reginald Nevill rescued her - by marriage. They had six children, four of whom survived infancy.

Lady Dorothy travelled extensively and cultivated a wide circle of friends - literary, artistic, political. She became a leading society hostess, her salons attracting many celebrities. Active in the Conservative party (she was a founder member of the Primrose League), she aroused Tory horror by her friendship with the Liberal Unionist leader, Joseph Chamberlain.

In 1851 the Nevills acquired Dangstein, a large property near Petersfield in Sussex. Lady Dorothy turned the garden into a horticultural centre, with exotic plants kept in seventeen greenhouses. She became an authority on orchids and corresponded with William and Joseph Hooker at Kew and with Charles Darwin.

Her husband died in 1878, leaving all his money to their children to curtail her spending, she moved to Stillyans near Heathfield. Towards the end of her life she wrote several volumes of memoirs, and after her death her son edited her life and letters.

Her biography, Exotic Groves, written by her kinsman Guy Nevill, was published in 1984.

The Collection includes the following:

Photograph album

A magnificent Volume, beautifully bound, containing photographs of Lady Dorothy's celebrated friends, in elaborate filigree frames, often with their letters or autographs on the back, and illuminated pages in manuscript. 31 x 28 cm. Bound in green morocco, the upper board overlaid with a wooden board with radiating green-yellow leaf pattern and with silver mounts bearing the Nevill crest, and clasp. 48 ff.

Loaned in 2000 to the National Portrait Gallery, London, for the exhibition "Escape to Eden: Five Centuries of Women and Gardens."

The frontispiece consists of an inscription ("Dolly On a Sunbeam and in a drop of water") painted on the skeleton of a leaf, surrounded by an illuminated pattern of coats of arms in the form of a star.

The portrait photographs include:

- Horatio Walpole, Earl of Orford (Lady Dorothy's brother), with illuminated coats of arms as border
- The [second] Duke of Wellington, decorated with a blue flag; autograph letter on back
- Lord Salisbury, Conservative leader and Prime Minister
- Lord Ellenborough, Conservative politician (with letter)
- Samuel Wilberforce (Bishop of Oxford and opponent of Darwin)
- Disraeli (with autograph)
- Members of the Nevill family
- Field Marshal Viscount Wolsley (with letter)
- Edward, Duke of Clarence (grandchild of Queen Victoria and heir to the Prince of Wales)
- Joseph Chamberlain, Liberal Unionist leader (with letter)

There are also illuminated pages containing speeches by the statesman Robert Lowe (with letter); a history of the Nevill family in the British Museum; and a speech by Disraeli; besides photos of various houses such as Dumford, the home of Richard Cobden.

"Poems and Leaves"

Manuscript Volume in brown straight grained morocco with gold tooled borders and edges and marbled endpapers, bound by Birdsall & Son, Northampton. 22 x 15.5 cm. 45 ff, the rest blank. Entitled "Poems and Leaves written out by Dorothy Nevill."

Poems, epitaphs, thoughts, all in beautiful calligraphy, many exquisitely illuminated, two written on leaf skeletons; some in German, Italian and Latin.

"The Service for the Burial of the Dead"

Manuscript Volume bound in black morocco with gold tooled borders and crosses. 25 x 19 cm. 18 ff, the rest blank. Printed book label: "Stolen, from Dangstein." A transcript of the service for the Burial of the Dead, from the Book of Common Prayer, in beautiful calligraphy and exquisitely illuminated.

Newspaper obituaries of Lady Dorothy

Straight grained black morocco, 37 x 29 cm. Gold tooled internal edges. Romeike & Curtis, Ludgate Circus, EC. Silk endpapers. 71 pp.

Letters of condolence on the death of Lady Dorothy, 1913. 77 pp.

Letters or telegrams from many celebrities, including Queen Alexandra, Field Marshal Lord Roberts, Hubert Tree, Ellen Terry, the Royal Family, Edmund Gosse, and Charlotte Knollys on behalf of the King and Queen.

'We are Rather Pressed for Money'

Yeats (George) and the Cuala Press. An interesting correspondence with Michael Freyer of the Brown Jacket Bookshop in Dublin, mainly concerning arrangements to sell Cuala titles at Freyer's bookshop [then located in Cuala's former premises in Baggot St.] Eight letters in all: five from Mrs. Yeats (three TLS, two ALS, all on headed Cuala notepaper), and three carbon copies of typescript replies by Freyer. Mrs. Yeats' letters are generally short and to the point, Freyer's rather longer. They include orders for titles, arrangements to have Cuala titles on display on 'sale-or-return', a query from Mrs. Yeats about a letter by Freyer's brother Grattan concerning the text of a poem by W.B. Yeats, etc. Mrs. Yeats' last letter (June 4 1947) asks for a cheque on account, 'We are rather pressed for money'. With a copy of Cuala hand-coloured print no. 285, 'The Custom House' by Hilda Roberts. George Yeats took over management of Cuala's business in the 1940s, after Elizabeth Yeats' death in 1940 and her sister Lily's increasing illness. As a collection. (1) €400 - 600

The Old Lady Says No?

Yeats (W.B.). A copy of Rann, an Ulster Quarterly of Poetry, Autumn 1948, containing first publication of Yeats' poem 'Reprisals', written on the death of Lady Gregory's son Robert, 1918, but withheld at that time at her request, probably because she did not like the passage about 'half-drunk or whole-mad soldiery / are murdering your tenants there .. / Then close your ears with dust and lie / Among the other cheated dead'. A fine copy. Scarce. (1) €100 - 200

891

John Coughlan (b. 1932)

"William Butler Yeats," Etching, Lim. Edn., 99 (100) copies, approx. 46cms x 36cms (18"x 14"), in oak frame. (1) €200 - 300

An Exile Romancing about Ireland

Manuscript: [Irish Poetry & Songs] A 19th Century Booklet containing neatly written copies of Poems and Songs of Irish Interest, evidently assembled by an Irish Exile in England, mostly well known poems of exile and nostalgia, some from the Irish, possibly some original material and drawings, approx. 78pps., with blue mor., as a manuscript, w.a.f. (1) €150 - 200

Photograph: Sir J.P. Mahaffy, a large Portrait Photograph, approx. 8" x 6" (20cms x 15cms), by Keogh Bros., mounted on board, and Signed by Prof. Mahaffy & Dated Nov. 1917. (1)

* Prof. Mahaffy, Irish classicist, and polymathic scholar, was also Provost of T.C.D. both Oscar Wilde and Oliver St. Gogarty were his pupils. His dismissal of literature in the Irish language and his refusal to allow Patrick Pearse to address Trinity's Gaelic Society in the college guaranteed he would not be fondly remembered in Irish historical folklore.

Walsh (Maurice) Author. An interesting ALs to 'Donagh' [Mac Donagh?] 1 pp 30.VIII.40, commenting favourable on a story he has just written, and making some suggestions, and advising him to send it to 'The Bell'. Single Sheet. (1) €70 - 120

895

Hogan (Dr. E.) An ALs 3pp on U.C.D. notepaper to Dr. (Douglas) Hyde concerning examination papers, and commenting on the high quality of the candidates for the oral examinations. 'I'm sorry you were not there, it would have done your heart good to hear (them)'. Also mentions his Onomasticon which 'ought to be out this month, over 700 pages.' As a m/ss. (1) €60 - 90

896

[Hyde (Dr. Douglas)] O'hOnain (Tomas) ALs. one page folio, to An Craibhin Aoibhinn, from a Liverpool address 23.8(19)09, in Irish throughout, asking for Hyde's assistance in finding out what happened to a poetry manuscript which O'Honain sent to the Gaelic League's publishing committee some six months previously, and with a m/ss copy of a letter (also in Irish) which he sent to Padraic Mac Piarais at Scoil Eanna, earlier in 1909, making the same enquiry, and receiving no reply. It seems the manuscript went astray or was mislaid, and the unfortunate author says he had no copy of most of the work. Not for the first time, alas! All in attractive Irish hand. As a m/ss., w.a.f. (2) €80 - 120

897

An Unrecorded Yeats Item

[Wyndham (Pamela) ed.] A Little Couple and A Baker's Dozen for Christmas 1928. Higham, Grange Press, Southwick, 20pp, heavy unbleached paper, uncut. Colour printed wrappers with label, stitched in faded green silk. Title page with borrowed Cuala vignette of a tree and stone wall in a bare landscape signed E.C.Y[eats]. Contents list at p. 20. The 'Little Couple' is a tipped-in photo of a young girl and boy, aged perhaps 10 and 8, signed by the photographer Adrian Harding opposite the first poem (Echo by Pamela Wyndham). The 'Baker's Dozen' of poems and extracts include The Stolen Child by W.B. Yeats, Golden Stockings by Oliver St. John Gogarty, and work by Vita Sackville-West, Coventry Patmore, Alfred Noyes, Laurence Binyon and others of the Edwardian beau-monde, mostly on the theme of childhood. Pamela Wyndham was a sister of George Wyndham, Chief Secretary for Ireland 1900-05; they were great-grandchildren of Lord Edward FitzGerald through his daughter Pamela FitzGerald. Pamela Wyndham married first Lord Glenconner (Tennant), and secondly the former Foreign Secretary Lord Grey of Falloden. The children in the frontispiece must be hers. The connection with the Yeats family is through George Wyndham, a patron of the arts, who knew W.B. Yeats, and who in 1904 gave the Abbey Theatre its patent allowing it to stage public performances, at the request of his cousin Wilfrid Scawen Blunt (a former lover of Lady Gregory). See Max Egremont, The Cousins (1977).

A very rare item, evidently printed for family and friends. Not in Wade; not in BL, NLI or TCD. COPAC records one copy only, in the British National Trust Library. €250 - 350

Roberts (Oliver Michael). The Herald of Dawn. Dublin, For the Author by George Roberts 1919, with a drawing by the author's mother. Sm qto grey printed wrappers, 6 pp (partly unopened). Laid in are an ALS from Liam Ó Rinn and a TLS from Cecil O'Neill-Watson, thanking the publisher for copies; also an unsigned sheet (on back of an envelope addressed to Miss G. Roberts, Dalkey) with what appears to be a manuscript account of the author, probably by the publisher (his father or uncle?). An interesting item. Rare. (1) €100 - 150

'The Forlorn Hope of Idealism in Europe'

'AE' [George Russell]. The Future of Ireland and the Awakening of the Fires. Published at 13 Eustace Street. Threepence. Quarto printed wrappers, 12 pp, stapled, n.d. [1897]. With a preparatory poem, and a note at end inviting 'those interested in the unfolding of the ideas here put forward', to communicate with AE at 13 Eustace Street, Dublin. Horizontal fold, else a very good copy. (1)

A very early work, the first of AE's political essays, apparently reflecting in part on the Parnell controversy. He says we, as a race, are 'the forlorn hope of idealism in Europe', but a great destiny awaits us if we can learn from our heroic past and renew our kinship with nature - and if we can reassert our right to freedom of thought. 'Freedom to speak what hopes and ideals we may have; to act openly for what cause we will; to allow that freedom to others -- that liberty is denied. There are but too many places where to differ openly from the priest in politics is to provoke a brawl ..' A very rare item, not found in COPAC. Denson 3. €350 - 450

La Touche (I.D.) Typescript of novel entitled "Rent Cordage", 384 pp, with note "Typed by Mrs Fry who omitted [sic] 370 to 378" (actually 377).

The title is taken from a hymn, "The Return Home", written in 1862 to J.M. Neale: "Safe home, safe home in port / Rent cordage, shattered deck / Torn sails, provisions short / And only not a wreck." The author, Isobel Richmond Dignes La Touche of Stradbroke House, Blackrock, Co. Dublin, was the daughter of a Gloucestershire rector and widow of Major Reginald Ball-Acton of Kilmacurragh, Co. Wicklow, and of Hugh Norman Digges La Touche. She died in 1971.

With typed letter from Helen MacGregor, 404 Northborough Road, London SW6, 31 March 1969, to "Dear Mr Acton", praising the writing, characterisation and dialogue, but feeling that the plot is disjointed, with too many diversions from the real theme of the story, which is the heroine Alicia's self-sacrifice for her brother Henry. Had it been rewritten forty years ago it might have been publishable, but not now - there are too many novels being submitted, it is too dated, and the reviewers want novels by people the public has heard of.

As a typescript, w.a.f. (1) €250 - 320

Archive of Edmund Downey

Five Boxes containing papers of the Waterford Publisher, Novelist, Newspaper Editor and Historian Edmund Downey - Manuscript Drafts, Proofs and Reviews of Novels, Correspondence, and other Miscellanea. Edmund Downey (1856-1937), The son of a Waterford ship broker, emigrated to London in 1878, where he worked for and then edited Tinsley's Magazine, co-founded the firm of Ward & Downey in 1890, and in 1894 founded his own firm, Downey & Co. He wrote and published Irish-flavoured novels, some co-authored by his wife and published by him under her name, F.M. Allen. He also published the works of other Irish writers and helped to publicise the Irish novel, both in Britain and Ireland. In 1906 he returned to Waterford, where he bought the Waterford News. In 1914 he wrote and published a history of Waterford city, important as being the first to use the unpublished 18th-century Corporation records. He also produced a series of still-useful guides to Waterford city and county. After 1916 he became an ardent supporter of Sinn Féin, and was for a time "on the run" because of his opposition to the Treaty. His wife died in 1918 and in 1928 he married again. He was the father of six children.

The Masterpiece of Modernism

Joyce (James) Ulysses, 4to Paris (Shakespeare & Co.) 1922, First Edn., No. 285 of 750 copies on handmade paper, original blue paper wrappers bound in, (lacks spine), uncut, blue cloth, gilt lettered spine, internally clean. [Slocum and Cahoon A17] (1)

THE EARLIEST ISSUE OF ARGUABLY THE MOST IMPORTANT AND INFLUENTIAL NOVEL OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY. The total edition was limited to 1,000 copies of which 100 were numbered and signed on Dutch handmade paper, 150 numbered and printed on vergé d'Arches and the remaining 750 were numbered. The official date of publication for Ulysses was Joyce's birthday, 2 February 1922, but difficulties with the cover meant that in fact only two copies, both from the 1/750 issue, were actually ready that day. No further copies of any issue of Ulysses appeared from Darantière until 9 February (when a further batch of the 1/750 arrived), followed by the first copies of the 1/100 on 13 February, and the 1/50 series on 4 March. It is now thought that this reflects the order in which Ulysses was actually printed.

This copy is recorded in Sylvia Beach's Ulysses notebook for Irish Bookshops, subscribing on February 11th (see Glenn Horowitz Bookseller, James Joyce - Books & Manuscripts, New York, 1996, p. 123).

Only Separate Publication

Joyce (James) A Protest against Plagiarism. An original printed copy of the protest and appeal issued in French by a constellation of American and European literary and cultural figures, on Joyce's birthday 2 February 1927, over the unauthorized publication of sections of Joyce's Ulysses by the American publisher Samuel Roth in his Two Worlds Monthly magazine, without permission or royalty and in 'un texte incomplete'. First and only separate publication, a fine copy, 1 pp folio, with one fold mark, in a custom made folder. Issued over the names of some 167 notable people, the protest was instigated by Joyce and was drawn up by legal friends of his (see Ellmann, 1983, 585-7). It is thus a Joyce item, although he himself did not sign. It complains about the breach of Joyce's rights as author, and invites editors and others to withhold support and publicity from Roth and his enterprises. It was later published in Transition 1 (Paris, April 1927).

The signatures, in alphabetical order, include virtually everyone you ever heard of, from Albert Einstein to H.G. Wells, W.B. Yeats, Virginia Woolf, Paul Valéry, Bertrand Russell, Marcel Prevost, Sean O'Casey, Liam O'Flaherty, E. Oe. Somerville, Italo Svevo, Thomas Mann, Ernest Hemingway, Alice S. Green, André Gide, Augusta Gregory, Benedetto Croce, John Galsworthy, Robert Bridges, Arnold Bennett, Knut Hamsun, Wyndham Lewis, Gabriel Miro, Bunin, Luigi Pirandello, T.S. Eliot. The extraordinary range and quality of the signatories testifies to Joyce's worldwide reputation and influence, five years after publishing Ulysses. Joyce eventually secured a legal judgement restraining Roth's activities, which initially were possible only because Ulysses was for some years banned from import to the United States, hence Joyce could not establish his copyright in the usual way. See Slocum & Cahoon C68.

A fragile and important item of the greatest rarity. (1) €3000 - 5000

Fine Original Portrait Photos of the O'Brien Ladies by Margaret Cameron

Two black and white Photos, each 8" x 10" (20cms x 26cms), both stamped "The Cameron Studio, 70 Mortimer St., Regent Street." The portraits offered here are of two of the daughters of Edward William O'Brien (1837 - 1909) of Cahirmoyle, Co. Limerick - Mary, the daughter of his first wife Mary Spring Rice (and sister of the artist Dermot O'Brien) and Katherine (Kitty), the daughter of his second wife Julia Garth Marshall (and sister of the yachtsman Conor O'Brien). In one photo, Mary is holding Katherine; in the other, the child is on her knee. As photographs, w.a.f. (2)

* Julia Margaret Cameron (1815-1879) is regarded as one of the most important portrait photographers of the 19th Century. Having taken up photography at the age of 48 after receiving a camera by her daughter as a Christmas present. During a short but productive career, she produced an impressive output of over 900 photographs. Both during her lifetime and later, her close-up portraits of famous men received much praise, while her softer-focus portraits of women were less favoured, and her allegorical subjects, often featuring children, were not taken seriously. In recent times, following the publication in 1948 of her first modern biography by Helmut Gernsheim, her reputation has become firmly established. €1200 - 1800

Album Presented by Maharajah to Cork-born Engineer, 1927

Photographs: [Calastry Sons, London & Madras]
Photograph Album Entitled "A Souvenir of the Visit to Jeypore Samasthanam of His Excellency the Right Hon'ble Viscount Goschen of Hawkhurst, GCSI CBEVD, Governor of Madras, and The Viscountess Goschen, 14th December 1927" With M/ss dedication "To V. Hart Esq, Superintending Engineer, Madras. With the best compliments of Ramchandra, Maharajah of Jeypore." Oblong folio bound in green calf within brown paper wrappers, 23 x 31cm. Gold tooled title. Marbled endpapers. 83 pp of photographs with printed captions.

The photographs commemorate the visit in 1927 to the Zamindari (autonomous region) of Jeypore by the 2nd Viscount Goschen, Governor of Madras 1924-1929, and his wife, and their reception by the Maharajah Ramchandra Dev IV.

Vincent Hart, to whom the album was presented, was born in Cork in 1881, trained at the Royal College of Engineering in London, and joined the Indian Public Works Department at Madras in 1903, becoming the Superintending Engineer in 1927. As Engineer-in-Chief he was responsible for the building of the Mettur Dam on the river Cauvery, at that time the biggest solid gravity dam in the world. In recognition of his work he was presented with the Companionship of the Star of India by King George V in 1935. He then retired to his house at Lotabeg on the Lower Glanmire Road, Cork, where he died in 1939. (1)

Scrapbook of a Mediterranean Cruise, 1899

Scrapbook kept by Miss Ellen Perowne of a cruise on board the steam yacht Argonaut in February and March 1899, departing from Marseilles and visiting Naples, Greece, Constantinople, Palestine and Egypt. The contents include a Manuscript Journal kept by Ellen Perowne, beginning with her departure from Hartlebury Castle (the residence of her father, the Bishop of Worcester); extracts from a journal of the cruise printed in a magazine; commercial photographs of buildings and monuments they visited; Ellen's own more informal photographs; and ephemera such as menus and programmes for concerts and parties. She accompanied her father, the Bishop and her brother Connop Perowne, both of whom gave lectures and guided tours, while Ellen helped with the entertainments. (Bishop Perowne was a respected Hebrew scholar, well known for his moderate views on biblical scholarship.) The scrapbook also contains items relating to a later cruise of the Argonaut in which Ellen Perowne took part, departing from Hull and visiting the Norwegian fjords and the North Cape in July and August 1901. The Argonaut had been built in 1879, and was now owned by Henry Lunn World Travel. She had recently been fitted with new boilers and engines, and had first-class facilities for its 120 passengers. She came to grief on 29 September 1908, when she collided with a steamer in a fog and sank rapidly; no lives were lost, but the passengers lost all their possessions.

An interesting record of a bygone world. As a manuscript, w.a.f. 38cms x 28cms. (1) €350 - 450

[Chetwood (Rev. Dr. John)] A collection of 19 Pamphlets comprising sermons preached at Ardracran, Co. Meath, by the incumbent, the Rev. Dr John Chetwood, on dates (listed at the front of each) between 1782 and 1816 (+ one of 1835). Three are original sermons in MS; the remainder are recycled works of other clergy: five (anonymous) are printed, the remaining fifteen are productions of the eccentric polymath and entrepreneur John Trusler (1735-1820), who established a lucrative business by publishing some 150 sermons "printed in imitation of manuscript" to save clergymen the trouble of composing their own, and which he sold for a shilling apiece; some are by Trusler himself, the others by Samuel Clapham (1755-1830), who wrote under the appropriate pseudonym of the Rev. Dr Theophilus St. John.; also

The partial Text of two Sermons delivered at St Ultan's Church, Ardracran Co. Meath, by the incumbent, the Rev. John Chetwood, one dated "Jan '98", warning of the danger of foreign invasion, and exhorting his congregation to stand firm, support the government, and put their trust in the Almighty. As an Archive, w.a.f. (2) €300 - 400

Corbet Hill, Wexford

1798 Interest: A manuscript 4pp Letter, dated 13th March 1793 to "my dear Corbet" from J. Rochford (probably John S. Rochford, Clogrennan, Co. Carlow)

An affectionate and amusing Letter in which the writer thanks the Corbets for his recent visit to them at Corbets Hill (outside New Ross); hopes Mr. Corbet has recovered from his illness (he recommends a Regimen of Bark); and wishes them success in their plans for disposing of their house and Demesne. He is now immersed again in his attic storey, where is "sick of Politics and Sea Coal... I cannot consider myself better off, then if I was in a smoky, Popish Cabbin," Refers to an ongoing debate in the House of Lords on the Catholic Relief Bill "the Chancellor spoke violently against it, and voted for it" As a manuscript, w.a.f.(1)

* Five years later, Corbet Hill was where the insurgent army gathered before attacking the town of New Ross. €200 - 300

With curt comment on Daniel O'Connell

Queensberry (C. Douglas, Marquess of)

A brief letter dated 14 July, 1829, addressed to William Stewart Esq. Northumberland St., Edinburgh, who was M.P. for Co. Tyrone. Signed clearly by Queensberry, and sealed with his seal. As a m/ss., w.a.f. (1)

* Charles Douglas, 6th Marquess of Queensberry (great-uncle of 9th Marquess who was the boxing enthusiast and foe of Oscar Wilde) was a peer for Scotland from 1812 to 1832. He was then staying at Binns House, the seat of Sir James Dalyell. The issue of Catholic Emancipation was a hot topic at this time, and this letter originally enclosed a letter to Dalyell from 'that Blackguard Connell', on which Queensberry urged Stewart to take action. (1) €120 - 180

"The Party Procession Hero"

[Political Interest] Belfast Elections Cartoons, [Johnston (Wm.)] a Portfolio of numerous satirical caricature Prints relating to the "Belfast Elections of 1868," each of variant sizes, as a collection, w.a.f. (1)

Note: The redoubtable William Johnston [1829-1902] of Ballykillben [near Downpatrick, Co. Down] was a legend in his own lifetime.. an Orange and Protestant folk hero second only to that other William of 'glorious, pious and immortal memory'. He led the campaign against the Part Processions Act. It was his opposition to this legislation which was to make William Johnston of Ballykillbeg a folk hero, [see Bangor and No Surrender and references there.] Johnston was elected M.P. in 1868. The law was repealed in 1872. After some time away from Commons he was reelected in 1885 and remained until his death. He opposed Gladstone's Home Rule bills (source: Ian Mc Shane, "William Johnston of Ballykillbeg" on OrangeNet site) - BS.

The radial streak in the Orange Society's activity was represented by William Johnston of Ballykillbeg House, the Grand Master of County Down, who in March 1868, was sentenced to a month's imprisonment for marching, in defiance of the Party Processions Act, from Newtownards to Bangor at the head of a crowd of twenty to thirty thousand with beating drums, orange flags and a band playing the "Protestant Boys" and other provocative tunes. €400 - 500

Proceedings in the Libel Case that led to the Parnell Commission, 1888

Folio Volume (blue book) entitled: "Special Commission 1888. Pleadings and Proceedings in the Trial O'Donnell v Walter, together with the Times articles or reprints alluded to in the pleadings in the said action." 256 pp.

Frank Hugh O'Donnell (1846-1916) - writer, journalist and politician - was one of the most active and outspoken members of the Home Rule Party. He was briefly (1874) M.P. for Galway, then M.P. for Dungarvan from 1877 until the constituency was abolished in 1885. A pioneer of the tactic of obstruction in the House of Commons, he was also at loggerheads with Parnell. In 1888 he took a libel action against John Walter and George Edward Wright, proprietor and printer of the Times, over its series "Parnellism and Crime". Although the case was lost, it resulted in the establishment of the Parnell Commission, which exonerated Parnell from having condoned the Phoenix Park Murders, ptd. blue wrappers, as is, w.a.f. (1)

The Coercion Bill of 1846: A folio album of newscuttings, of Reports etc., mainly from the 'Morning Chronicle,' recording debates in the Lords and Commons on the Coercion (Ireland) Bill between 23 Feb. 1846 to May 5th, approx. 140pp + index. As an Album, w.a.f. Good. (1)

* This Bill - one of many introduced to grant the government 'Special Powers' as a solution to Irish 'unrest' - was proposed by the Conservative Prime Minister Sir Robert Peel in response to the outbreak of the Great Famine. Put to a vote in the Commons on 15th May, it was defeated by 292 votes to 219. This, and the refusal of this own party to support Peel's proposed repeal of the Corn Laws (passed by the Commons on the same day), led to Peel's retirement as Prime Minister on 29 June, 1846.

Fulfilment of Pearse's Dream Signed Twice by Pearse

Pearse, P.H. Sgoil Eanna Limited The original Prospectus and Memorandum of Association, dated 1912, setting out the school's objects and its capital structure, with the names, addresses and descriptions of seven subscribers - Alec Wilson of Belfast, J.P., Co. Down; Joseph T. Dolan, merchant of Ardee; Patrick H. Pearse, St. Enda's College, Rathfarnham, Barrister-at-Law; Michael Smithwick, Barrister-at-Law, Dublin; Stephen J. Barrett, Dublin, Treasurer, Gaelic League; Patrick Doody, Teacher at St. Enda's; and Eamonn O'Toole, also a teacher at St. Enda's. Each of the seven held one share, the company having a capital of £8,000 in shares of £1 each. The Directors are named as Pearse, Dolan, Wilson, Smithwick and Barrett (but not the two teachers); the Secretary pro tem is [the accountant] Donal O'Connor, 13 Westmoreland St., Dublin.

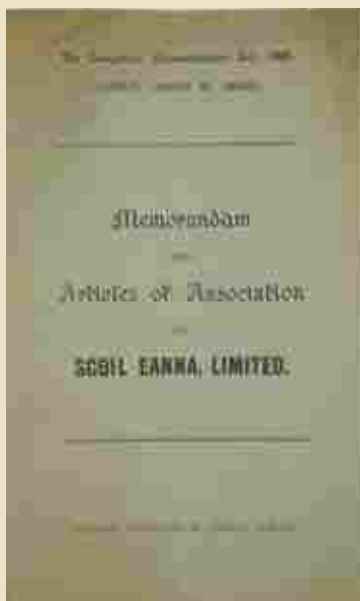

The Prospectus includes detailed statements of the cost of acquiring the premises, initial expenditures, cash subscribed, arrangements concerning [its sister school] St. Ita's, salary due to Mr. Pearse, and anticipated revenue and costs, showing a small surplus. It also includes the membership of an Educational Council including Seamus MacManus, Edward Martyn and Shane Leslie.

Accompanying this folio is a summary document, Memorandum and Articles of Association of Sgoil Eanna, the Memorandum with the original signatures of five subscribers - Smithwick, Wilson, Pearse, Barrett and Dolan -- and the Articles of Association also signed by the five subscribers including Pearse. Each of these two pages is also signed at foot by Patk MacKenna, Shop Assistant, Ardee, as witness.

St. Enda's was founded in 1908 in Cullenswood House, Ranelagh. The present documents were drawn up after its move to larger premises at Rathfarnham in 1910. It must have been a proud day for Pearse when he signed these documents, giving legal status to his plans and dreams for a new kind of Irish education at St. Enda's.

Of course there was never any surplus; the school never paid its costs, and Pearse spent much of his time in the ensuing years trying to keep it afloat by various expedients. Nevertheless it remains an important experiment, and an unforgettable experience for many of those who took part. The school remained open until 1935, with State support, and the house and grounds are now a museum and public park.

These founding documents are of the first importance for the history of Irish education. Both documents a little bumped at corners, but generally very good. €3000 - 5000

Plunkett, Joseph Mary [1887-1916], Proclamation Signatory

An original Painting of a Landscape Scene, oil on canvas board, framed, 29cms x 39cms (11½" x 15½"), Signed Ióseph Ó Pluighcéid lower left, further signed and inscribed on rear in Irish, 'Ióseph Ó Pluighcéid / Sráid Mhic Uí Uilliam Uachtar / Baile Átha Cliath / Tobar Neamh-Parthaláin' [St. Bartholomew's Well] and dated 1916. (1)

Joseph Plunkett was a son of George Noble Plunkett, an antiquarian and fine art connoisseur, Director of the National Museum 1907-16 and prominent in other learned societies. Joseph was a poet and a friend of Thomas MacDonagh, and became editor of the Irish Review, and although he was seriously ill with TB (then an incurable disease), he became Director of Operations for the Irish Volunteers and a member of the IRB's Military Council. It is said that he drafted the plan for the Dublin rising. He was one of the seven signatories of the Provisional Government's Proclamation of Independence. He left a convalescent home to serve in the GPO through the Rising, where his aide-de-camp was Michael Collins, and afterwards was court-martialled and sentenced to death. Shortly before his execution, he married his sweetheart Grace Gifford in Kilmainham Jail.

As well as his poetry, he painted as a recreation, including some landscapes of Mayo and Donegal scenes, where he went to learn Irish. A watercolour was sold at Adams in April 2016; this is the first oil painting we have seen. Although the provenance is obscure, there is in our view no doubt about the signature and inscription. There is a St. Bartholomew's Well (Tobar Pharthaláin) near Bantry, Co. Cork; there may be others. €1000 - 1500

Report on The 'National Volunteers'

Coffey (Diarmid) An important signed 'Report on the Organisation of Ireland on 6th November 1914' dated 24 Nov. 1914, 5pp typescript (carbon copy), first page on paper of Irish Volunteers, Inspector General's Office. The first 3 pages give a detailed summary of organisation in each of the 32 counties, including several where 'No returns' are recorded, followed by a general report on final two pages. 'It is noticeable in the above report that the organisation in Ireland is very uneven. Thus, in several counties, the returns are complete and the Counties are organised into Battalions. In other cases there are no organisation returns at all. In those counties where energetic organisers have been at work, the organisation has been completed in two or three months.. 'There has been a considerable falling off in the Volunteers of late, [due to causes including] the secession of Sinn Fein members of the Volunteers. This has in many cases, even where the vast majority of the Volunteers have followed Mr. Redmond, [caused] considerable disorganization'. Signed in bold signature on last page. As a typescript, w.a.f. A most interesting document, unusual (1) €400 - 600

[Ashe (Thomas)] A good collection of items from the collection of his sister Nora, some interesting material including
- A telegram to Ashe, Harp Hotel, Tralee, 21 Jun '07, arranging to meet at Limerick Station for Clare [i.e. the by-election] signed McGuinness;
  - A very interesting TLS signed J. (possibly John MacDonagh), addressed to 'A Th. a chara', 26.6.1917, discussing home-coming of prisoners ('a great success, even down in Youghal', the by-election, the parade to Bodenstown, reports of divisions in the ranks of the Sinn Feiners, 'too many Leaders and too many Policies', 'our friend Eoin .. unfortunately for us it would seem as if he was to be taken under DeV's banner', etc. A most interesting letter; further research would probably identify the writer.
  - A copy of The Liberator (Tralee, 21 June 1917), reporting on p.3 a 'Right Royal Welcome to Austin Stack, Tom Ashe and T. Brosnan';
  - A letter from a friend to Nora Ashe congratulating her on her brother's release, and a letter from 'Padraig', Dunbeag, June 12th 1916.

Mac Suibhne (Toirdhealbhach) [Terence MacSwiney]. Battle-Cries [poems], orig. grey printed wrappers, 1918, no printer (for the author). A very good clean copy, rare thus. Dedicated 'To the Dead at Eastertide 1916'. Includes the poignant 'Fragment April 1916': 'Where shall I be in the autumn, when the flower / Is waving o'er these fields?'

Terence MacSwiney [1879-1920] was a founder of the Irish Volunteers in Cork, and was an officer at Easter 1916, when they were outmanoeuvred by the British military, who put artillery on high points around the city centre before the Volunteers could move. MacSwiney succeeded the murdered Tomás MacCurtain as Lord Mayor of Cork in March 1920. In late August he was jailed for two years for possession of a confidential cipher, and immediately went on hunger strike. He died in Brixton Prison after 74 days, on 24 October 1920. The day of his funeral coincided with the execution of Kevin Barry, leading to a surge of emotion from which the British cause in Ireland never recovered. €250 - 350

'Just a Lad of Eighteen Summers..'

Kevin Barry [1902-1920] His personal Crucifix and Scapular, in an inscribed envelope signed by Kathleen McKenna [an assistant on the Irish Bulletin], stating they were given to Sean McKeon on November 2nd 1920 after Vespers and prayers for Barry's immortal soul. The hand-sewn scapular much worn, its ribbon in pieces, the crucifix in good condition. [The Scapular, worn by Catholics suspended from the shoulders, is a silent prayer that shows one's dedication to the Blessed Virgin Mary]. Kevin Barry, a medical student in Dublin, joined the Volunteers in October 1917. He was arrested on 20 September 1920, reportedly with a pistol, after an engagement in which three British soldiers (one of them slightly younger than Barry) were killed. He was sentenced to death, and in spite of appeals for clemency, was hanged in Mountjoy Jail on 1 November (All Saints Day), the first Volunteer to be executed since the aftermath of the Rising. He died on the day of Terence MacSwiney's funeral in Cork, the two events causing massive international publicity which greatly damaged the British cause in Ireland. A personal and religious memento of great significance. (1)

'Army Crisis' 1924

During the so-called 'Army Crises' of 1924, when alleged I.R.B. influence and cuts in manpower led to a threatened mutiny, Gen. O'Duffy briefly resumed command of the Army. The file includes a typescript list (carbon copy) headed "Old I.R.A. Men's Association. Re-Organised I.R.B. etc. etc." listing a number of 'persons of high rank' under columns headed 'Engaged in its activities' and 'In touch, in sympathy or coquetting with the organisation.' the first column is headed by Joe Mc Grath TD, Maj. Gen. Liam Tobin and Major Gen. Tom Cullen' (all associates of Michael Collins), etc. (two pages), with a further three page list of 'Officers who resigned owing to crises' with manuscript additions in O'Duffy's hand, in all over 100 names.

Also with a later exchange between O'Duffy and Mulcahy, as follows:

Press report headed "General Mulcahy resents a speech" (by O'Duffy); a draft reply in O'Duffy's hand (Evidently to Mulcahy, headed 'Personal'); and an A.L.s. from Mulcahy to O'Duffy, 7.11.24, accepting O'Duffy's explanation, 4pp, with a few related documents; and also a manuscript document in O'Duffy's hand headed "While G.O.C.F." listing improvements in pay, pensions and conditions achieved under his command, and a two page manuscript document, in his hand apparently text of an address to trainee officers. Creating a Neutral Zone at the Border in 1922 [O'Duffy (Eoin) & Mulcahy (R.)] An important file containing original documents relating to agreements between the Provisional Government and the British Government in June 1922, establishing a so-called 'neutral zone' on both sides of the border in the area of Belleek and Pettigo, including a typescript memo with manuscript additions, signed initials, from Richard Mulcahy (Aire Chosanta) to 'Ceann Fuirinne' (Chief of Army Staff, Eoin O'Duffy), 21.6.22, with accompanying memorandum setting out the arrangements agreed when the Minister and Comdt. Hogan met Colonel Brind, Co. Evans and Mr. Cope on 21 June (1922), providing that 'with a view to preserving order on the Border that, as an experiment, British troops shall occupy the villages of Belleek, Pettigo, Garrison, Kesh and the surrounding area,' etc; that units of the Special Constabulary and elements of the Provisional Government and Republican forces shall remove themselves from the area; that there will be no searches or arrests other than by civil police, etc.

Also with a copy memo from Comdt. Hogan indicating that he was discourteously treated by British troops when on official business in the area; a note signed by Gen. Mulcahy forwarding Hogan's report to the Chairman, Provisional Government, 28.6.22; a memo to Chief of Staff (O'Duffy) from T. Glennon, Divisional Adjutant, Ogligh na hEireann, 23.6.1922, with details of British activities in Free State territory near Belleek, etc., and a few other related documents.

The agreement was an attempt to stop clashes between "B" Specials and Republicans in the border area, but it apparently was not a success.

A Discovery of Major Importance

AN CLÓ-CHUMANN Ltd A strongly bound hf. morocco folio ledger containing the original manuscript Minutes of meetings of the board of Directors, 322 numbered pages, 1903-09, some countersigned by Eoin MacNeill, including full details of the company's business and financial situation over half a decade; also the company's letter-book, containing carbon copies of outgoing mail, 1903-07, manuscript and typescript, 998 numbered pages, in a worn calf-backed ledger, including copy letters to various writers, printers, publishers, suppliers etc. Includes five copy letters to Pearse, pp. 436, 763, 823, 934, 963, copy letters to Hyde and many others (see index at front), e.g. copy letter on p. 634 to P. Kelly complaining about late arrival of copy for 'An Claidheamh Soluis'; copy letter p. 494 to (the writer) Micheál Breathnach about proofs; copy letter p. 495 to the secretary of the typographical union denying a complaint about apprentices; estimates p. 713 to P. Ó Dálaigh for printing Gaelic League Ardheis reports; p. 681, reply to Ms. O'Farrelly about supply of books; etc. An absolute treasure-house of information about the printing and publishing scene in Gaelic Dublin in the first decade of the last century.

An Cló-Chumann was set up by a group associated with Conradh na Gaeilge as an independent concern, to print for commercial customers as well as Conradh. It printed work by authors including Pearse and many others, before it eventually failed essentially for financial reasons. Little has been known about its business in detail, but the two present volumes will for the first time allow a full history to be written.

A discovery of major importance.

The letter-book is very fragile (India-paper pages), and patrons are requested to view with great care.

Important Civil War Periodical The Largest Set to Come for Public Auction

Broadsides: Stop Press - Poblacht na hEireann - War News, [No. 1] 28 June 1922 - No. 174 6th March 1923, Eight Years of The Republic. An unbroken run of 174 nos., lg. atlas folio & folio broadsides, printed one side only. All in extremely fine condition.

This collection contains the very rare first issue unnumbered, signed by Rory O'Connor which effectively announcing the start of the Civil War on 28 June 1922, & the equally rare issue for Christmas 1922, also unnumbered, No. [1] - 7 large newspaper folio as issued; remainder regular folio as issued; all single sheets, printed one side only. First seven numbers printed mostly on coloured paper, remainder on regular newsprint. As a periodical, w.a.f.

* There appears to be no record of a complete run of this publication, but it certainly did not continue beyond De Valera's 'dump arms' order of May 24th at the very latest; probably it ended somewhere in the early 180's.

The bulletin began with the attack on Republican forces in the Four Courts, as a way of conveying urgent news of the changing situation to journalists, Republican supporters and the general public, and was issued in broadside format to facilitate pasting on walls. It was edited mainly by Erskine Childers until his arrest (November 1922), later by Frank Gallagher and others. While written from the point of view of the Republicans or Irregular forces, it continued the tradition of accurate journalism established by the earlier 'Irish Bulletin.' It is by far the most important source for the day-to-day conduct of the Civil War, containing a great amount of material not found anywhere else (since the daily papers published little or nothing originating from the Republican side). There are many poignant issues, such as these recording the deaths of Michael Collins, Erskine Childers and very many others.

A superb collection of serious historical importance, preserved in five plastic folders. €5000 - 7000

A Fateful Document

'The Murder Members' a single folio sheet, verso blank, stating The following are the names of the members of the Partition Parliament who voted for the Murder Bill, and listing 56 names in two columns, including W.T. Cosgrave, Desmond Fitzgerald, Richard Mulcahy, Michael Staines, Padraig O'Maille, Dr. James Crowley, Sean McKeon, Ernest Blythe, Sean Milroy, Sean McGarry, Joseph McGrath, Sir James Craig, Pierce Beasley, Kevin O'Higgins, Alec. McCabe, etc., and concluding Keep This List For Reference. Beside the name of Dr. James Crowley, a contemporary hand has written Con's Doctor - presumably a reference to Constance de Markiewicz. (1)

A fateful document. The Murder Bill, so-called, was an Act of the Free State parliament which authorised sentence of death upon those taken with arms. Soon after this document was issued, gunmen opened fire on Pádraig Ó Maille TD, deputy Speaker of the Dail, in a Dublin street while he was on his way to the Dail with another TD, Sean Hales, Ó Máille was wounded, and Hales - whose name is not on this list - was shot dead, apparently in mistake for another. In reprisal for these shootings, and in fear for their own lives, the Free State cabinet ordered the summary execution of four Republican prisoners detained since the seizure of the Four Courts, Rory O'Connor, Liam Mellows, Dick Barrett and Joseph McKelvey, entirely without any legal process or justification. The present document is very rare. Fold marks, a few minor marginal tears, else v.g. €300 - 400

Wartime Plans to Evacuate Dublin!

Department of Defence. Evacuation of Dublin City and Dun Laoghaire Borough. Government Scheme. 'The Government is arranging for the voluntary evacuation of certain classes of the civilian population .. in the event of a situation arising which would render such a course advisable.' Leaflet, 4pp (single sheet folded), dated February 1941, outlining a detailed scheme covering families whose incomes do not exceed £300 p.a., to be evacuated with their children to reception areas 'mainly the Counties Roscommon, Longford and Wicklow (excluding Bray, Wicklow Town and Arklow) as well as the greater part of Leitrim, Meath and Kildare and parts of Westmeath and Laoghais', with provisions for registration, financial support etc. 'Those who fail to register may find themselves unable to leave the city if a serious emergency arises'. Richer families were to make their own arrangements. With some pencilled amendments, addressed in ink at head to a Mrs. Cox of Killucan. The leaflet does not clarify the nature of the emergency envisaged - invasion? bombing? In February 1941 Hitler had completed the occupation of France, had postponed the invasion of Britain and was preparing (in secret) to invade Russia. The Dublin bombings by the Luftwaffe - supposedly accidental - did not happen until May/June 1941. The leaflet is extremely rare and may not have been generally issued; no copy found in COPAC or in NLI online catalogue. €180 - 220

Important Archive of 19th Century Kilkenny Deeds

An Archive of Documents relating to families and land holdings in County Kilkenny, comprising leases, wills, marriage settlements, legal correspondence and other papers. Mainly 19th century, but a few of the 18th Century (1718 and 1769) and some of the early 20th Century.

Many of the papers relate to the family of Hutchinson and to lands at Boolyshea (which they bought from Robert Garrett in 1718), Kiltorcan and Derrynahinch (acquired by fee farm grant) and Jerpoint Church (acquired in 1801 by marriage between Richard Hutchinson and Mary, daughter of Edward Hunt).

In a curious deed made of 1801 soon after his marriage, Richard Hutchinson grants to Anastatia and Mary Walsh of Derrynahinch an annuity of £20 on condition that they continue to clothe, maintain, educate, support and keep Mary, Judith, John, Abigail and Thomas Hutchinson otherwise Walsh, "reputed children of said Richard".

Through a series of very detailed marriage settlements, it is possible to follow the genealogical details of later Hutchinsons and the families with whom they intermarried, and their financial and land transactions. In a curt letter of 1875 to his solicitors, John Hutchinson of 89 Waterloo Road, Dublin, instructs that two of his daughters "should be cut out and excluded from any share in my will". These documents provide an insight into the affairs of a Kilkenny family of substance, but which did not meet the qualifications for an entry in Burke's Landed Gentry and whose genealogy is therefore not easy to trace.

The archive also contains a number of documents relating to other families of Co. Kilkenny during the second half of the 19th century, mainly of the farming class rather than of gentry status. The largest file contains 25 documents of the Phelan family of Ballyragget, 1824-1897.

Of the Utmost Rarity with Swift Association

Harward (Michael) Philomath. A New Almanack for the Year of Our Lord, 1666, 12mo Dublin (Printed by John Crook) 1666. First & Sole Edn. red & bl. title, within wd.-cut decorated border. Interleaved copy, with approx. 40pp. of cont. m/ss notes. In later full calf, upr. cover with "J. Swift" blocked in gilt, and date 1666 in gilt on spine. As an Association Copy, w.a.f. (1)

A unique piece of 17th Century Dublin Printing, with an amazing history of an association to Jonathan Swift.

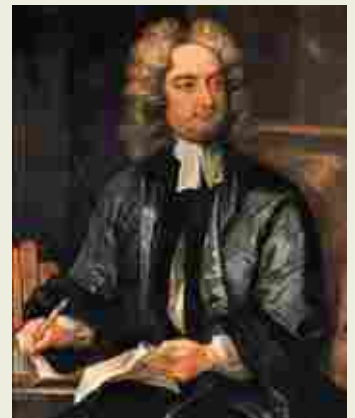

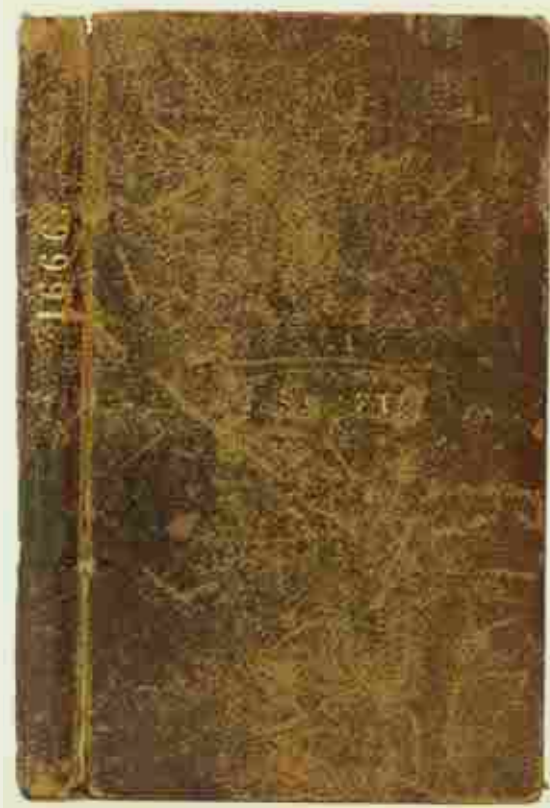

In the 1680s and 1690s, the owner of this small Dublin-printed almanac of 1666 transcribed into it the texts of nearly twenty poems of the period, several with Dublin connections. Thus the earliest known miscellany of Dublin poems is found inside a unique survival of early Dublin printing. Very few early Irish almanacs survive; they were small, light books, heavily used by their purchasers since they contained not only astrological data and prognostications but also specific local information on tides, fairs, eclipses and festivals. No seventeenth-century Irish-printed almanac has been offered for sale in living memory and only one other almanac from this period is known to exist.

This copy is of double interest since it contains, in manuscript, late seventeenth-century poems of Dublin origin. Some of these poems are unknown and unedited. For many years, it was asserted that the poems were in the hand of Swift, but it is now clear that this is not the case and, though the spine bears the words '1666. J. SWIFT', none of the poems are by him. However, they are of considerable interest and shed new light on Dublin life at a time when Swift was living in the city. The book is of extreme historical and cultural significance.

We are most grateful to Prof. Andrew Carpetner, M.A.Ph.I., MRIA, FEA, Emeritus Professor of English UCD for his help in cataloguing this lot, and for his Preliminary Analysis of the above volume, which is available on request.

The above Volume is in fragile condition and it will not be available for general viewing.

Barber (Noel) The Week France Fell - June 1940, 8vo Lon. 1976. First Edn., 320pp 8pp of illus. & 2 maps, illus. end papers & orig. d.w. (1)

* Noel Barber (1909 - 1988) was a journalist with the Daily Mail who had an adventurous career in foreign lands (he was stabbed five times in Morocco and was shot in the head while covering the Hungarian Uprising in 1956). Between 1951 and 1979 he wrote 22 works of non-fiction. Following a car crash which ended his career as a journalist, he wrote 6 successful novels.

His very readable account of the fall of France is highly critical of Wm. Bullitt. His statement that Bullitt had never married elicited an angry letter from Anne, his daughter, to Harold Mac Millan, the publisher of "this foolish book". A draft of the letter, and review of the book in the Evening Herald by Brian Queen is included in the lot.

Together with: Thurmond (Strom) The Faith we have not kept, 8vo San Diego, Calif. 1968. First Edn., 192pp bl. & wh. illus., paperback, Signed Presentation Copy, by the author to Senator Dan Brewster, my esteemed friend and colleague, and with typed note to Brewster asserting that the book "discusses vital issues of the day and proposes certain solutions that should be of interest to you." Brewster was the ex-husband of Anne Bullitt. Senator Nancy Pelosi served as an intern on Brewster's staff in the 1960's.

The "faith not kept" is faith with the Founding Fathers and the principles bequeathed by them. The book deals with the internal problems of America, the threats from without, and what must be done about them. James Strom Thurmond (1902 - 2003) served for 48 years as Senator for South Carolina, the only congressman to have reached the age of 100 while still in office. His career was marked by controversy: a vehement segregationist, in 1964 he changed from Democrat to Republican because of his opposition to the Civil Rights Bill. Regarded in his lifetime as a major political figure, his reputation among black people is somewhat mixed.
